TIGHT MONEY PERIOD IS NOW ABOUT ENDED

British Attitude Now Much More Favorable to Canada Says Hon. W. T. White

Ottawa, Sept. 2.—The Hon. W. T. White, finance minister, returned yesterday from a holiday trip to Great Britain. He was quite optimistic over the financial outlook and confident that the period of tight money is about over.

He regards the cessation of the Balkan war as the most potential factor toward a more hopeful adjustment of financial conditions.

The British attitude, he said, is at present much more favorable to Canadian investments than it was a few weeks ago. There existed almost a prejudice against Canadian securities.

There were many causes. One was the general situation, another was the fact that much English money had been lost in Canadian wild-cat schemes. The company promoter, as far as England is concerned, he said, was dead for a long time to come.

Mr. White gave two reasons for the present stringency. One was the unprecedented demand for capital from all parts of the world. The other was the Balkan war and the fear of a general conflagration.

Referring to municipal securities, Mr. White said it was well understood in London that these debentures of the chief cities were thoroughly sound. There has been an unfavorable connotation in the London market. This is clearing up and he predicted an improvement ahead.

Mr. White expects to take a trip to the prairie provinces in October.

OPIMUM CARGO FOUND ON BOARD MANCHURIA

Discovery of Smuggling Ring Leads to Search That Will Take Many Days

San Francisco, Sept. 2.—Customs officials engaged in a search of the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria discovered nine tons of opium valued at $4,425 in the forepeak of the vessel last night, and the work of the searchers is still in progress. In connection with the discovery, federal officials stated a warrant would be issued for the arrest of one of the ship's officers in whose department the opium was discovered.

The unusual move of the customs officials in boarding the Manchuria in force grew out of the recent discovery of an alleged opium ring, in which are involved fifteen customs guards, who are under arrest. It was stated that confessions had been obtained from certain of these guards, according to which a store of opium was shipped to the United States on the Manchuria.

Long before the vessel arrived wireless stations along the coast were placed under surveillance by the federal officials who scanned all messages sent and received.

When the vessel steamed into the harbor she was surrounded by a fleet of small craft that followed her progress up the bay to the astonishment of the crew and passengers. The customs officials in the small boats were watching to see that no packages were thrown overboard.

When the customs men boarded the boat they were accompanied, in addition to the corps of bluejackets, by eight interpreters and a number of stenographers and officers.

The customary search of passengers' baggage was made and then the boat was searched thoroughly. It will take several days to complete the search.

HUGHES IS NOW THE EMPIRE ARMY HERALD

Correspondents in London Credit Minister of Militia With Showing Caution.

London, Sept. 2.—Col. Sam Hughes, who is staying at the Savoy hotel, preparatory to proceeding to the British Army manoeuvres, is stated by one of the newspapers of the flamboyant Imperialist type as "Herald of the Army of the Empire." In actual newspaper interviews, though, the Canadian minister of militia appears extremely cautious in voicing his sentiments. He is not prepared, for instance, to discuss compulsory military training, the burning question of home military. He contents himself with saying that each of the overseas dominions must decide this matter for itself. He expressed enthusiasm for General Ian Hamilton, saying: "His report on the Canadian militia is one of the ablest and most brilliantly written state papers ever penned by any military authority." He declined to adopt all the recommendations contained therein. Col. Hughes and his party of Canadian staff officers will go on from Salisbury to witness the military manoeuvres of France and Switzerland.

VERNON WILL ANNUALLY HOLD FLOWER SHOWS

Fireman Injured; Drowning Accident in Kalamalka Lake Results Fatally.

Vernon, B. C., Sept. 2.—So successful was the first Vernon flower show held at the opera house Thursday evening, August 28, that it has been decided to make the show an annual event hereafter. Thursday's exhibition far exceeded in size, beauty and attendance the expectations of the most sanguine of those in charge.

While practising for the firemen's sports to be held in Vernon during the Labor Day celebration, Tom Arnold on Friday night sustained a serious fracture of the right leg. Mr. Arnold, who is a member of the fire brigade, mounted the extension ladder and jumped from the top into the life-net, which was being held by the other members. As he alighted his foot doubled under him and both bones of the lower leg were broken near the ankle. He received treatment at the Vernon Jubilee Hospital and will be confined to his bed for many weeks.

Friday night Guy Charsley, a young man 25 years of age, while swimming in Kalamalka lake, was suddenly seized with cramps. He sank in seven feet of water, and though rescued almost immediately did not recover. Charsley was unmarried and had been working in the orchards in the Coldstream district.

LOST JEWELS DELAY LORD HALDANE'S TRAIN

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 2.—The discovery that Mrs. Jacob M. Dickinson, wife of the former secretary of war, lost a handbag containing a diamond necklace and other jewelry, held up the special train of Lord Haldane. Mrs. Dickinson attended the dinner here in the lord chancellor's honor, just before the distinguished visitors resumed their journey to Montreal. She was on the way to the train when she discovered her loss.

The taxicab in which Mrs. Dickinson rode to the station and the hotel dining chamber, and dressing rooms were searched without result. Mr. and Mrs. Dickinson finally proceeded to Montreal with the rest of the party.

PACIFIC BARRIER AT CANAL NOW REMOVED

Dredges Move in From Ocean, After Explosion of 44,800 Pounds of Dynamite

Panama, Sept. 2.—The last remaining barrier at the Pacific end of the Panama canal was blown up by dynamite Sunday morning. At 9 o'clock an electric switch was turned on and hundreds of tons of mud and stones were thrown high in the air as the thunderous roar of the explosion re-echoed in the nearby hills.

About twenty long tons, equivalent to 44,800 pounds of 45-per cent dynamite, constituted the blast, which was one of the largest ever set off in the canal.

The charge, which was planted in 541 holes at an average depth of thirty feet, tore a big gap in the barrier, but not to a sufficient depth to permit water to flow through, as the tide was low.

Equally interesting as the explosion was the actual breaking of the barrier, the tide creeping steadily up until at 1.35 o'clock it was level with the top of the gap.

A workman seized a shovel and made a small trench through which a rill of water trickled. Gradually it widened until an hour later a raging torrent, with a thirty-five foot fall, poured through an opening 400 feet wide into that part of the canal between Gamboa dyke and the Miraflores locks, which previously had been excavated by steam-shovels.

This cut, which is 5,000 feet long, 500 feet wide and forty-one feet deep below mean sea level, was entirely filled by 3 o'clock when the waters of the Pacific laved for the first time the solid masonry of the Miraflores locks. Dredges passed at night through the opening and in a few days the last vestiges of the barrier will be removed, establishing a practically completed canal at the Pacific end.

The dredges will begin to-day to remove the last barrier of the Atlantic channel. When this work is accomplished ships may navigate to the locks from both ends.

SOCKEYE SEASON IS EXTENDED BY BOWSER

Alteration Authorized as Result of Failure by United States to Ratify Agreement.

Bellingham, Wash., Sept. 2.—That the fisheries department of the Canadian government has officially extended the sockeye open season until September 15, notwithstanding that sockeyes may not be caught in Puget Sound waters after August 25, is the information contained in a letter received to-day by State Fish Commissioner L. H. Burwin from W. J. Bowser, commissioner of fisheries for British Columbia. The extension, according to Mr. Bowser, has been authorized as a result of the alleged failure of the United States to ratify or obtain definite action upon the recommendations made by the international fisheries commission, consisting of Dr. David Starr Jordan and Dr. E. E. Prince in 1910.

"The regulations pertaining to Canada," says the letter, "recommended by this commission, were made law in 1910 by Dominion enactment, but no implementing legislation has been passed by your federal authorities. This annual close season on the Canadian side of the line was one of the suggested regulations, and the relaxation of it during the current year merely presages the denunciation of the treaty which will take place if effect is not given by the government of the United States to the regulations referred to at the next session of congress."

"I may state that we have never considered the regulations adopted by the state legislature of Washington as satisfactory, nor as a quid pro quo for the legislation enacted and always enforced on this side of the line for the protection of the sockeye salmon of the Fraser river."

CHANNEL TUNNEL COST WOULD BE $16,000,000

London, Sept. 2.—Referring in an interview to the proposed tunnel under the English channel, Arthur Fell, M. P., says that he believed the construction of a double tunnel would cost about $16,000,000; $8,000,000 would be raised in Great Britain, and in regard to the finance generally Mr. Rothschild on more than one occasion had assured him that the money for the construction of the tunnel would be forthcoming without difficulty. He hoped that the government would abandon the non possumus attitude and would join in aiding the most interesting enterprise of the generation.

NANSEN IS SEEKING BRUSILOFF EXPEDITION

St. Petersburg, Sept. 2.—The Norwegian steamer Korrekt, 1,800 tons, has left Vardo for the Yenisei with Dr. Nansen on board. An Anglo-Norwegian firm are responsible for the voyage, which has been planned in the hope of opening up a trade route for regular steamers during the summer months.

Dr. Nansen hopes to discover the men of the Brusiloff expedition, or obtain news of their safety. They were expected to winter on Dickson island in the Yenisei bay, but have not been seen so far.

Depressed, Nervous, Weak.

In these three words, taken from her letter, Mrs. BARNATT vividly describes her own sufferings, but she also describes the daily sufferings of thousands and thousands of others. EDMONTON TO RUPERT COMPLETED BY APRIL

Grand Trunk Contractor Says
Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Prediction Will Be Fulfilled

Vancouver, Sept. 2.—"So far as I can see, having just completed a trip from Winnipeg to Prince Rupert by the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific (and such aids as were required by navigation), I feel safe in saying that the railway of the Grand Trunk Pacific from Edmonton to Prince Rupert will be completed by April or May next," said J. W. Stewart, the railway contractor, last night.

"If this be the case, and there is no reason why it should not be unless there is some unexpected event, the prediction of Sir Wilfrid Laurier that the new transcontinental railway was to be completed by Dominion Day, 1914, should be fulfilled."

Mr. Stewart has nothing but praise for the manner in which the work is progressing on the main line of the new transcontinental. There are now 20,000 men at work between Edmonton and Prince Rupert; they seem to be well satisfied with conditions under which they are working, and there is at present no cloud on the horizon to prevent his firm completing their great contract within the specified time.

"If all goes well, there is no reason why, by this time next year, the people of British Columbia should not have their alternative route to the east. The people of the prairies will certainly have better accommodation than ever they had before. The Grand Trunk Pacific is carrying wheat to-day from Edmonton and west to Port William, and we believe that they will be able to get through on the transcontinental to Cochrane, and maybe further east, whilst there is reason to believe that the Canadian Northern will very soon have their line through from Port Arthur to Sudbury, and that will mean three great eastern outlets for the grain of the prairies."

GOVERNMENT HOUSE CASE GOES TO PRIVY COUNCIL

People Subscribing $15,000 to Have Final Judicial Opinion on Lord Denman's Residence.

Melbourne, Sept. 2.—The dispute in New South Wales over Government House has been carried a step further. It will be remembered that the McGowan ministry refused to keep it for the occupancy of the governor-general, Lord Denman, on his visits to Sydney. Action was brought to test the legality of the action of the government, it being stated that the property had been in the possession of the House authorities, and had been handed to the state government for the residence of the governors, and could not be used for any other purpose. The case has been before the state and high courts, and as the high court has upheld the action of the government, the citizens have now decided to take the case to the Privy Council, and for this purpose subscriptions are being collected.

It will cost £3,000, and £300 was collected the first two days.

FOURTH SHUSHANNA DEATH IS REPORTED

Member of R. N. W. M. P. Drowned in White River Last Wednesday.

Seattle, Sept. 2.—The fourth death attributed to the stampede to the Shushanna goldfield in Alaska was reported in cable advices from Dawson to-day, which told of the drowning in White river last Wednesday of Constable Michael Fitzgerald of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, who was on his way to patrol the Canadian portion of the trail leading to the diggings.

Constable Fitzgerald was on a barge towed by the steamer Vidette up the White river, and was manning one of the sweeps to keep the barge in the middle of the channel when he was knocked overboard. He was picked up by a boat lowered by the steamer, but efforts to resuscitate him were unsuccessful. The three other deaths attributed to the stampede occurred on the route from Cordova, the victims drowning in the glacial streams which have to be forded.

Reports received at Dawson say stampedees found the skeletons of two men on the Upper White river a few days ago. The men had been dead several months. One was identified by papers with the bones as Milan or Mylius, a trapper, but there was nothing by which the other could be identified.

It is a Waste of Time for some men to collect their thoughts—But when they foregather "at The Kaiserhof" for an ice cold creamy Humber—Ah! that's another matter.

INCREASE RECRUITING STRENGTH OF AUSTRIA

Proposals to Be Put Forward
During Autumn That Will Cost 12,000,000 Kronen

Vienna, Sept. 2.—It is reported that at the autumn session of the Austrian and Hungarian delegations a proposal will be put forward for the increase in the recruiting contingent of the landwehr by 15,000 men, and that of the infantry by 25,000. It will also be proposed that the artillery shall be increased by 10,000 men.

If these proposals are accepted the Austrian standing army will consist of 580,000 men. The cost of this increase in military forces will amount to 12,000,000 kronen. The Neue Freie Presse states that the artillery reorganization scheme provides for a battery of six guns to be added to each of the 42 field gun regiments. By this addition each infantry division would possess one field gun regiment of six six-gun batteries and a howitzer division consisting of two batteries, each of six howitzers.

The 14 heavy howitzer divisions will have additional third batteries, which are to be armed with a new 15-centimeter steel howitzer. It is hoped that the additions will be completed by the end of 1915 or the beginning of 1916, so that by that time an infantry division in either the landwehr or the Honved artillery will have the same artillery effectiveness as a division in the Austro-Hungarian army.

THOMAS EDISON NOW WELL.

Portland, Maine, Sept. 2.—Thomas A. Edison, after a week spent at Monhegan on his first vacation in two years, arrived here last night, complaining of a slight illness. The nature of his ailment is not known, but members of his family who accompanied him from Monhegan said it was not serious.

WONDERFUL DRUG THAT STIMULATES GROWTH OF HAIR

And Revives Pigment-forming Cells
That Gives Hair Its Natural Color.

Hardly any of us are entirely free from dandruff or other scalp affections. Millions of us, so long as the trouble is slight, do little or nothing to cure it. Others, who are trying to cure it, are applying all sorts of fancy colored and fancy named hair "tonics." You are not likely to get much benefit, if any, by using any preparation that does not contain the one known drug that positively stimulates the growth of hair. The safe and sure way is to mix your own tonic or go to a reliable druggist and have him mix it for you. Here is a simple formula: 5 cc. ordinary Bay Rum; 3 cc. ordinary Lavone de Compose; 1 drachm Menthol Crystals. If you choose, add 1 drachm of your favorite perfume. Apply to the scalp with finger tips, night and morning, to destroy dandruff, to stop falling hair, to cleanse and beautify the hair, and to stimulate the growth of the hair. This treatment is recommended to stimulate the growth of the hair even in cases of complete baldness. If you see it will not make the pigment-forming cells active enough to completely restore the natural color. This formula contains no dye or artificial coloring matter, but is designed to make nature produce the natural color in the natural way. Any druggist can supply you with the ingredients or mix the tonic for you.

WILL RESIGN RATHER THAN EXECUTE YOUTH

Salem, Ore., Sept. 2.—That before he will execute Robert Morgan, sentenced to hang here next Friday, for killing his sweetheart, Virgie Hart, at Condonia, in October of last year, he will resign, is the ultimatum delivered to Governor West by Colonel Lawson, warden of the penitentiary, yesterday. Morgan has been a model prisoner, and the fact that he is but a boy and that his crime was committed while he was insane with jealousy has caused the warden to reach his decision.

BIT DYNAMITE CAP KILLED BY EXPLOSION

Meleuse, Mont., Sept. 2.—Joseph Labister, 38 years old, a pioneer prospector, committed suicide in his cabin here yesterday by biting a dynamite cap, the explosion of which drove a piece of copper into his brain and broke his neck. For years Labister has searched for precious metals, and the fact that he recently allowed a mining claim valued at $50,000 to slip through his hands, is believed to have unsettled his mind.

NEW ZEALAND'S POLICY.

Hon. W. F. Massey, Prime Minister of New Zealand, and Colonel Allen, Minister of Defence, have announced that their dominion will make no more money contributions to the admiralty. Colonel Allen says rightly, "a true national spirit will never develop under a system of pecuniary contributions to the imperial navy," but adds that, "whatever New Zealand does in the matter, her ships will at all times be under imperial control for imperial purposes." The Prime Minister supplements this declaration of his defence minister by pointing out that New Zealand's policy would involve no loosening of the ties with the mother country, but "they had to see that New Zealand waters were secured from attack."

It is quite evident from these utterances that New Zealand's naval policy will be modelled upon that of Australia. Obviously it cannot be as ambitious as that of the island continent, but it will be of such a character as to develop the "true national spirit" of the smaller dominion. Her statesmen are looking to the future. They know that nothing New Zealand can live that has not New Zealand sentiment behind it. They also realize that financial contributions to the admiralty do not guarantee protection, and, as the Prime Minister says, "they had to see that New Zealand waters were secured from attack."

We note that Colonel Allen speaks of "New Zealand's ships." In another speech a short time ago he referred to the New Zealand and British navies. Evidently the dominion is to start the organization of naval defence of her own in co-operation with the admiralty. In the words of the Minister of Defence, it will be under imperial control for imperial purposes. This means that in time of war it will be transferred to the control of the admiralty, as in the case of Australia's navy, but undoubtedly it will be under the control of New Zealand in time of peace. Moreover, it will be stationed in New Zealand waters, which in itself presupposes New Zealand control.

Both Australia and New Zealand have tried the policy of money contributions and have found it unsatisfactory. Sir Joseph Ward, the late premier, brought the matter to a head when in a flush of imperialism he pledged his dominion to contribute the battle cruiser New Zealand to the admiralty. That fine vessel is entirely beyond the control of the people who paid for her. They have nothing to say with regard to her disposition. Although Colonel Allen was in London for a considerable time last spring, he was not consulted by the admiralty on this point, and the vessel is destined for the Mediterranean service. We can understand how in the circumstances the people of New Zealand retired the administration of Sir Joseph Ward from office.

Should not Canada throw in her lot with Australia and New Zealand instead of with the Malay Peninsula and the Fiji Islands? Of late it has become apparent from the tone of the government press in this country from ocean to ocean that Mr. Borden's permanent policy is to be one of pecuniary contributions. Some of these papers do not disguise their inclination towards a policy abandoned by Australia and discredited by New Zealand, who have tried it. It is not too late to proceed under the Naval Service Act now on the statute books. Let us, too, develop our national spirit and co-operate with our sister dominions in protecting British interests on the Pacific. Australia is going to provide for its own protection. New Zealand now proposes to perform the same duty in her waters. Should not Canada also take up the burden of her own naval defence, as these dominions are doing?

THE CRICKET TOURNAMENT.

It was not altogether the unexpected that happened when Cowiehan carried off the prize in the cricket tournament which was brought to a close yesterday. But it was hardly anticipated that Oak Bay would furnish the "runner-up" of the "week." The victor and the vanquished of yesterday are both comparatively new clubs, and we congratulate them on the fine figures they cut in the tournament. The result will be good for the game in British Columbia, which undoubtedly has the finest cricketing talent on the continent. Having tasted the fruits of victory, Cowiehan, unless we are greatly mistaken, will henceforth prove an important factor in this grand game. They have splendid talent up the valley, and talent which is obviously capable of further development. A new star has indeed appeared in the firmament, and Victoria and Vancouver will henceforth have considerable difficulty in dimming its lustre. Cowiehan puts all its heart and energy into the game, which is something that can hardly be said of some of the older clubs in the province. Success on the cricket field cannot be attained by desultory methods.

OFF THE TRACK.

The San Francisco Examiner, which, with the other journals controlled by the restless Mr. Hearst, is yelling for war with Mexico just as it yelled for war with Spain, has done Sir Richard McBride the lofty honor of exalting him on a pedestal for the edification of President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan. The Examiner man has got hold of a report of Sir Richard's speech at the Goldstream picnic, and innocently accepts as gospel his reference to the Asiatic question. "In everything but name," the Examiner says, "British Columbia is an independent state. Exercising its sovereign power, British Columbia has forbidden the issue of timber, mining and fishing licenses to Orientals, and has denied to these aliens the right to buy or own land within the boundaries of the province."

We cannot resist the impulse to quote some more of this picturesque nonsense:

"There exists between Great Britain and Japan a treaty of alliance, which is both military and political, and the Japanese have vigorously protested to the Court of St. James against the action of British Columbia. The British government, in turn, has notified Sir Richard McBride, the premier of the province, of the protest of Japan. And the reply of Sir Richard McBride to the Imperial government is plain, brief and straight to the point."

"The province of British Columbia," he says, "is sovereign in control of its internal affairs. This province has legislated in regard to Orientals within its boundaries, and this legislation it is determined to enforce."

"They breed men in the Canadian Northwest, evidently—men whose veins are full of blood and iron. It was men of that breed who signed the great Declaration; who knelt behind the rail fences at Bunker Hill; who fought the sea fights that immortalized the names of Hull and Decatur and Rodgers and Lawrence; who fell to a man at the Alamo; who triumphed at Buena Vista; who met each other with an equal valor on the fields of that great war which began at Bull Run and ended at Appomattox."

What awful fustian! There are more Orientals entering the province of British Columbia to-day than are entering the state of California. We know how numerous they are in the fishing industry. We know that they are in the mining industry, and we also know that they have not been "denied the right to buy or own land within the boundaries of the province." The Japanese government, therefore, did not protest against the action of the British Columbia government to the Court of St. James, and the British government did not notify the provincial authorities of Japan's protest. Sir Richard's remarks were not a reply to the representations of the British government, but merely the usual political buncombe recited off at the annual party picnic at Goldstream.

What a must—says the Examiner. He is of the breed "who signed the great Declaration; who knelt behind the rail fences at Bunker Hill; who fought the sea fights that immortalized the names of Hull, Decatur, Rodgers and Lawrence," etc. What a shock it will be to the passionate imperialism of Sir Richard to learn that he belongs to the breed who knelt behind the rail fences at Bunker Hill! If history repeats itself in any circumstances, it is possible to imagine Colonel McBride kneeling behind a rail fence? We trow not.

The Examiner is off at a tangent. What would it say, we wonder, if a California mining company were protected by the California government in the employment of Orientals in its mine in direct contravention of state law? This is the condition which exists to-day in British Columbia under the administration of the man who belongs to the "breed who knelt behind the rail fences at Bunker Hill."

REFORMING THE SYSTEM.

Far-reaching consequences to the legal system of the United States may follow the interstate conference of judges which was held as a preliminary to the annual meeting of the American Bar Association at Montreal on Saturday. This conference was the first of its kind since the republic came into existence, and it is a noteworthy circumstance that it should be held in Canada's leading city.

The purpose of the conference was to plan for uniformity of judicial procedure to eliminate delay and reduce the expenses of litigation. The present system has become so hopelessly complicated and unsatisfactory that on all sides there is a demand for reform. There is no uniform procedure among the states. Each has its own distinct system, and they might as well be forty-eight foreign countries as far as this aspect of their administration is concerned. It originated in the first place with that emphatic vindication of state rights which lies at the base of the constitution of the country and out of which has grown a heterogeneous legal system, the complex character of which has often resulted in the defeat of the object for which it was framed.

It has made the United States the home of technicality and legal quibbling. These have seriously impaired the administration of justice, especially in the case of criminals who have richly deserved punishment, but who in many cases have escaped through the ingenuity with which their counsel have pulled them through the loopholes of the law. If they have wealth behind them they can stave off punishment for years. Appeals follow appeals on the slightest pretext, and finally when they are brought to trial the enormity of their offences is forgotten and they escape in the shadow of public indifference. And behind the necessities of the legal situation there lies a big social and economic consideration. One of the most telling factors in the immense emigration of Americans to this country at the present time is the fact that they are guaranteed greater security by the law of Canada than they are in their own country. They believe they can get fair play here, while they cannot be sure of it across the line.

Now the people of the United States, according to some prominent newspapers, are beginning to revile the senate for taking so long to pass the tariff bill. What do these unreasonable Americans expect? The senate has long been known as the bulwark of high protection. The end of high protection being at hand, why should not the senate allow its friends as long as possible to enjoy the over-ripe fruits of protection? In Canada the Borden government will give us just as fine an illustration of legislative lethargy as the senate has given the people of the United States, although, in this part of the country at least, we are much more firmly in the grip of trusts and combines and monopolies (the finished works of protection) than is any part of America that we have heard of.

Governor Sulzer, the impeached, who appears, strictly speaking, to be no longer governor, although he still clings to office, has not lost the confidence of his friends. One of them describes him as a great child of nature with some human weaknesses. "But in his breast there still thumps an honest, patriotic heart." Mr. Sulzer, it appears, got away with the surplus election funds (or at least his wife says she did), but utilized sufficient of them to secure his election. Hence, we suppose, the big patriotic heart.

John D. Rockefeller has broken into print again. This time our old friend has secured publicity by breaking into tears, not, mark you, because of a decline in the price of gasoline or of any of the products of Standard Oil, but at the thought of the dire affliction of a company of blind people he was addressing from a pulpit. There is no longer any doubt about it: John D. has a tender heart and the organ is in the right place.

On his face alone as depicted in the newspapers President Wilson would have very good reason for refusing to "recognize" Huerta. No man with such a countenance, if his published pictures do him justice, should be endowed with the powers vested in the hands of a president of Mexico.

It is fairly safe to predict that the victors in the cricketing tournament will receive a warm welcome when they return to their home on the banks of the Cowiehan.

"The militant violence of nature's non-combatants" is the very latest phraseological description of the warfare of the suffragettes. It is quite a mouthful, and at that hardly seems to fulfil the descriptive requirements of the situation.

GOOD HOLIDAY OFFERING

Playette Leads Bill Including Several Pleasing Acts at Empress Theatre.

John P. Wade and a good supporting company opened the week's show at the Empress theatre yesterday, the holiday giving excellent audiences for all performances during the afternoon, and for the three evening performances. "Marse Selby's Chicken Dinner" is the title of the playette, in which Wade is shown off to excellent advantage in the character of a negro servant. A liberal quantity of subtle comedy with a sprinkling of pathos marks the sketch. Hurst, Watts and Hurst brought forth considerable applause with a song and comedy patter which proved a second favorite, while a quartette of buxom young women, who delighted with some pleasing songs, proved a popular third. The clever balancing act by La France brothers is something quite out of the ordinary, the men working on pedestals and going through a routine of ingenious performances, one of which the members descend a flight of stairs on his head. The final act, in which Charles Gibbs makes some realistic imitations of birds, farm-yard animals, and musical instruments, made quite a hit, the artist introducing his comedy line "Dead," and receiving his share of approval.

SOUTH AFRICAN VISITOR.

Hon. Alexander Wilmut, Former Cape Colony Politician, Passes Through on Empress of Asia.

Among the passengers on the Empress of Asia from South Africa on Sunday was Hon. Alexander Wilmut, who with Mrs. Wilmut and Miss Wilmut, is en route east to Europe. They proceeded to Vancouver.

Mr. Wilmut, after a brilliant educational career, entered the civil service of Cape Colony and served in various offices till 1886, when he retired on a pension. He became a member of the legislative council in 1889 and was prominent in the Progressive party. He has written widely on historical and economic questions in South Africa.

Everyone wishes to live long, but no one would be old.—Swift.

Like the bee, we should make our industry our amusement.—Goldsmith.

THE PROBLEM SOLVED.

"Say, Will, I'm in a quandary."

"What's wrong, Ned? Isn't married life running smooth and placid?"

"Oh, that's all right. Nell is the sweetest thing ever; but you know her mother is living with us, and I've been dogged if I know what to call her. I don't like to call her 'Mother-in-law' because of all the mother-in-law jokes."

"Why not call her 'Mother'?"

"That's all right, but you know, Will, that my own mother is living, and there is a sacredness about the name which makes it hard for me to use it with another."

"I'll tell you."

"What is it?"

"The first year we were married I addressed my wife's mother as 'Mum.' After that my wife and I both called her 'Grandma.'"

Motors Collided.—A collision on the Shawnigan lake road was reported to the provincial police on "Saturday night. It occurred about 11.30 a. m.
The motors driven by H. Gustafson and George Clark came into collision but neither was going at a high speed.
According to Mr. Clark's report Mr.
Gustafson was on his wrong side and was travelling at about six miles an hour, while he was going about ten miles. Mr. Gustafson was looking behind and did not see the other motor until it was within six feet. Some minor damage was done to both cars.

To Be Sold.—It is not often that one of the most important sites in Victoria is offered for sale at a civic tax sale, yet such is the case in connection with the site of the Rorison block on the Causeway, where one of the mammoth blocks of Victoria is projected. The sale is set for Thursday next, and up till noon to-day City Treasurer Smith said the delinquent taxes had not been paid, amounting for the two lots to $4,472. Another important property advertised is the Yee Yick block on Cormorant street, as is also a whole block on North Douglas street, north of Topaz avenue. A few of the payments have been made, and the number of parcels of land to be sold will probably dwindle down to thirty or forty by the date of the sale.

A Wise Old Elephant.—A big novelty two-part special—the latest addition to the Selig photoplays in which wild animals figure prominently will be shown at the Majestic theatre to-day. This is an extraordinary drama of plantation life in picturesque British East India, in which the famous and all-but-human Selig elephant, plays the leading role. Two thousand feet of all-absorbing plot, vivid realism, dramatic romance, and thrilling adventure. The most remarkable animal motion picture yet produced. "A Plot for a Million," a gripping drama of finance with startling incidents. "Alibi," a picture showing how love is sacrificed for a friend to protect her name and make two happy. "Auntie and the Girls," a bright comedy "With the Assistance of "Shep." This is a pretty picture as well as a good comedy.

Offers Expert's Services.—The Elevator Supply and Equipment Company, of Vancouver, whose experts are installing the cells in the provincial jail at Wilkinson road, offers the city the services of their expert gratis to advise in connection with the proposed lock-up. The question was laid over by the council at its last meeting for a full board.

Launch Breaks Down.—In the rough sea which prevailed on Saturday night a gasoline launch containing two men and a boy got into difficulties off the Dallas Road seawall. The wind was so strong that it kept driving the little craft in towards the wall and when the engine broke down all they could do was throw out the anchor. This failed to hold, however, and the launch was blown in against the foot of the wall. Fortunately the occupants managed to get it to the steps, which gave them a chance to save it from serious damage and get ashore themselves in safety.

Made Presentation.—An interesting function took place at Jordan River on the evening of Tuesday, August 26.
The occasion was in honor of the recent marriage of Miss May Nelson and Mr. S. M. Jones. The young couple were presented with a beautiful oak case containing solid silver knives and forks, tea, desert and table spoons, and carving set, engraved with a monogram, in all 113 pieces. The gift, from employees of the Vancouver Island Power Company and friends at Jordan River, was suitably presented by Charles A. Lee, resident engineer. A pleasant evening was spent in dancing and singing.

ALLEN PLAYERS.

Those favorites of Victoria theatregoers, the Allen Players, supporting Miss Verna Felton, will open a short engagement at the Victoria Theatre Monday evening, September 8. This popular organization has not been seen here since their stock engagement of last summer, when they did a record-breaking business for three months.

The entire company has now enjoyed a vacation of three months and brings this season not only a repertoire of exceptional merit but a fund of zealous enthusiasm which will add much to the performance.

Besides Miss Felton and Mrs. Allen, other members of the company well known in Victoria are Connors, Kennedy, Egan and Kenck. New members are the leading man, Norman Feuster, Miss Lillian Fischer and Miss Leah Hatch. The three new members are artists of experience and no doubt will soon win their way to local favor.

The initial offering, to be presented September 8, 9 and 10, is one of the dramatic sensations of last season in New York, "The Spendthrift." This play has been selected for the excellence of its story, the power of its leading roles and the richness of staging and costuming. Miss Felton's role combines sprightly comedy with serious emotional work, a fascinating blend of feminine whims and caprices.

The return to what they take pride in calling their "home" town is being eagerly anticipated by the players and with so many friends and admirers there is every prospect of their engagement being a most enjoyable one.

Miniature Rifle Range.—The chief of police has been asked to pass on a miniature rifle range for boy scouts erected at Bishop's Close, Burdette avenue. A back-stop has been placed in position.

Paving of Gorge Road.—Unless the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company
commences the contract on Gorge road at once, and also on the intersection of Douglas street and Hillside avenue, and Bay street and Government street,
the city will do the base itself, and let a contract for the surfacing to the Worwick Paving Company.

Entries for Homesteads.—During the month of June there were 224 entries for homesteads in the railway belt in the Kamloops agency and 37 in the New Westminster agency, or a total of 261 as compared with 28 in June, 1912.
In the course of the twelve months there were several sections opened to homesteaders, which accounts for the great increase in homesteading in the belt.

Three Ladies Pass.—The following ladies, members of a class prepared in life-saving by Miss Hardie, were examined last Friday evening at the Gorge by P. R. Pomfret, honorary chief instructor of the British Columbia chief centre of the Royal Life-Saving Society, each candidate passing with honors: Mrs. Hiberson, 91 per cent; Miss Carrie Townsend, 90 per cent; Miss E. M. Armstrong, 88 per cent; Miss Hardie was also examined for the hon. instructor's certificate, and passed very satisfactorily.

Returns From Motor Tour.—John Hendry, the well known Vancouver capitalist, has returned with his wife from a motor tour to the Alberni district. Mr. Hendry, whose experience makes him a notable judge of development is greatly struck with the possibilities of the West Coast and particularly of the Alberni region, with its resources of fish and lumber and minerals. He anticipates that in years to come the locality will be one of the most prosperous in the province.

Receives Appointment in England.—
G. H. Ashe, who held a position for a short time with the Boys' Central school here, has been appointed headmaster of Queen Elizabeth's school, Hartlebury, Kidderminster, one of the oldest grammar schools in England, set among delightful surroundings in the Midlands. It is a country school with a large number of pupils from the adjacent towns, and is operated now under the Worcestershire county council. Mr. Ashe, says the inspector, was a most efficient teacher here.

TENANT TOOK FIXTURES

Chong Tai is Fined One Hundred Dollars for Carrying Off Shelves and Showcases.

The police court was more like a civil court Saturday than a place where criminal justice is meted out.
Leases, indentures, surrenders, assignments, bills of sale and affidavits littered the desks of magistrate and counsel and formed the subject of evidence and argument.

Chong Tai was on trial on a charge of stealing certain fixtures and fittings from the premises, 531 Plaguard street, which he has been occupying for the past year as successor to Yuet Wo Long in the grocery business. His defence was that he had purchased these them to be his own and believed them to be his own when he removed them last week to another store across the street. W. C. Moreby conducted the prosecution and Fred C. Elliott defended the accused.

E. M. Johnson said he had been agent for the past thirty-five years for the estate of the late James Porter,
the executors of which are Thomas L.
Worthington and Margaret E. Rissor.
He put in the various leases entered into since 1900, and documents showing that what fixtures were not put up by the owner were purchased from the then tenant in 1901 by the allowance of two months rent. Yuet Wo Long took the premises on July 13, 1903, for five years ending on Monday next. A year ago Chong Tai came to him and wanted to rent the store, but he insisted on a surrender of the lease held by Yuet Wo Long being first obtained and this was done by Lim Bang, who was acting on behalf of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce for the creditors of Yuet.

Some weeks ago Chong Tai was given the refusal of a renewal at an increase from $45 a month to $100 but would not sign a new lease. About Thursday last he removed a quantity of shelving, showcases and fixtures from the premises, and when remonstrated with and told to return them would not do so. Mr. Johnson said that when leasing the place to Chong Tai it was made plain to him that the fixtures belonged to the landlord, and the lease showed that these were included in the property he was leasing.

Chong corroborated Mr. Johnson's evidence as to what took place almost word for word, except that he quoted that gentleman as using strong language and a loud tone.

To Mr. Moreby he professed that he had relied on friends to whom he took the lease to tell him what was in it, and they said nothing about the fixtures. He admitted that the fixtures had spoken about the fixtures but could not explain why he had failed to assert that he had purchased these,
as he thought, from the former tenant.
He ceased to taking out shelving and showcases, to being told to return them and to refusing.

Chong denied absolutely that he had purchased any goods or merchandise for the $100 which he paid, but the magistrate pointed out to him that attached to the bill of sale was an affidavit from Wong Suck Fong, manager for Yuet Wo Long, stating that there was merchandise conveyed.

The magistrate held that the defendant was guilty of stealing but considered that the case was one to be dealt with by a fine, the amount of which he fixed at $100.

Notice of appeal was given.

flowers and berries on the banks of the stream and fell in, the water at the spot being much over her head. Her cries drew the attention of the others

FIRST ROYAL MAIL LINER CALLS HERE

Ben of Ruthven Loads and Unloads; All Vessels Will Call Hereafter is the News

Welcome news was brought to Victoria yesterday by the Royal Mail steam packet liner Den of Ruthven, Capt. Stewart, which arrived at the outer docks from Hull and London via the Suez canal. Hereafter all the ships coming to this coast in the service of that company will make regular calls at Victoria. The four freighters which preceded the Den of Ruthven to the Pacific coast all passed on to Vancouver without coming in here, but from now on the gateway to the Pacific will be placed on the schedule of the great British shipping concern.

The Den of Ruthven tied up shortly after 6 o'clock yesterday evening, and it was while the officers were conversing with several shipping men that the announcement of the company's intention of calling here was made.

Peculiar Weather Conditions. Capt. Stewart reports rather peculiar weather conditions prevailing on the trans-Pacific voyage. When skirting the Aleutian Islands the Ruthven ran into fog and steamed through it for four days. When 300 miles off this coast the Den struck easterly winds with heavy northwest seas running. This is what might be called a rather unique weather condition. The big ship rolled considerably and at times the seas broke over her bows and flooded her decks forward.

Longshoremen worked all night putting off 80 tons of general European merchandise and stowing 40,000 feet of lumber in the ship's hold. The Den of Ruthven proceeded to Vancouver early this morning.

About nine years ago the Ruthven was here in the Allegheny line, which operated a fleet of ships to Australia. Although she is getting old the Royal Mail liner is still a fine vessel, having been well kept by her owners.

IMPERATOR REPAIRED SAILS

New York, Sept. 1.—With few exceptions the ship which damaged her hold last Tuesday morning and cost the life of one of her officers, the Emperor sailed on scheduled time Saturday with cabins well filled. The ship has been thoroughly inspected and pronounced in good condition.

BIG QUARANTINE DOCK AT DIGBY COMPLETED

Naylor Bros. Finished Off Fine Pier, Which Cost $60,000; Can Receive Ships

One of the largest and most modern docks in northern British Columbia has just been completed for the Dominion government at Digby Island by Naylor Bros., the local contractors. The new pier has been constructed in connection with the new quarantine station which is being established to clear all foreign-going ships entering the port of Prince Rupert. The work has been carried out in an expeditious manner and any of the great ships now plying the Pacific can berth there.

The contract price for building the pier was $60,000. There are two approaches to it, one of which is 910 feet in length and the other two hundred feet shorter. At the end is a strip of dock 40 feet wide and 160 feet long. The wharves have been built of creosoted piles and are terebo proof.

The Dominion government has decided to establish most of its plants on Digby Island, which lies right at the mouth of the harbor of Prince Rupert. The northern depot of the marine and fisheries department has been built there, as well as the wireless station. The big quarantine station is now being built. Preparations are being made well in advance for the shipping which it is expected will traverse northern waters in the next few years.

First-order lights, one on Langara Island and another on Cape St. James, have been established and a number of beacon and buoy will be placed on bold promontories so as to guide the navigators safely into port.

$3,000,000 IN SILK ON BOARD EMPRESS

Asia Regains Blue Ribbon in This Trade for C. P. R. From Blue Funnel Company

SPEED OF NEW VESSELS

SUITED TO SILK TRADE

White Liner Berths on Sunday Morning; Fine Trip All Way Round

Although the newest of the C. P. R. ocean-going steamships, the Empress of Asia, Capt. Robinson, which berthed here early on Sunday morning, failed to accomplish the desire of her officers and crew, that of shattering the record for the trans-Pacific voyage, which is held by her famous sister ship, she succeeded in regaining for the steamship company the laurels for the largest silk cargo ever handled. The huge strongroom on the white liner was crammed to its capacity with silk, and the shipment was valued at $3,000,000. This immense consignment of rich material, which will be converted into valuable goods for ladies and other wearing apparel, is now en route across the continent to New York.

The new Empresses can cross the Pacific in quick time. Speed is the main question in regard to the shipping of silk. The C. P. R. held the record for many years, but one of the Blue Funnel liners brought in a cargo worth close to $2,000,000 and the laurels shifted to that line. Then the laurels relieved the Holt people, but not for long, as the C. P. R. had to again release the record to the Blue Funnel company. Now the Empress of Asia has grabbed hold of the blue ribbon.

SHIPPED AS SEAMAN BUT WOULD NOT WORK

Steamer Brings Odd Tale to 'Frisco; Captain Says He Was Landlubber

San Francisco, Aug. 27.—"Only a landlubber and no sailor," was the verdict of Captain Asgaard, of the British steamship Bellerophon, in regard to Sidney Miller, a day out of Monterey. The young man had shipped as an able seaman when the steamship, on the way from Newport News for this port, fell one short of having a full crew. The Bellerophon arrived yesterday with Miller, whose story parallels in a marked degree the fictional character of Donkin, of the ship Nancissas, in Joseph Conrad's famous "Children of the Sea."

Being found deficient in doing any of the supposedly easy work on deck, Miller was set to firing by the Bellerophon's skipper. After a few days of that duty, according to the captain's account, he refused to continue. One morning both the captain and his chief mate found notes from Miller, each about as follows:

"You are killing me, so I might as well end it all. I'm going to drown myself."

The big vessel hove to immediately. Boats were lowered and a search made in water round-about. Captain Asgaard became convinced that Miller had not carried out his suicidal intention and was yet on the ship. So every nook and corner both above and below decks were looked into. All without result.

OSAKA LINER SAILS FOR PORTS IN EAST

Mexico Maru is Heavily Laden With Cargo; Movements of Other Ocean-Going Ships

Outward bound for Oriental ports chock-a-block with cargo and carrying a goodly number of passengers, the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner, Mexico Maru, Capt. Kobayashi, departed today at noon. The steamship came here from the Sound early in the morning and while she was in port Lewis Prior, of the British police service, who is en route to Borneo, together with 28 Japanese, a family of five Russians and five Chinese embarked. The cargo on the Maru consisted of iron and steel structural material, machinery, automobiles, grain, flour, lumber, fish and general merchandise.

A wireless message received this morning from Capt. Goto, master of the steamship Chicago Maru, stated that the inbound Osaka liner will reach Victoria at noon on Thursday from Hongkong and Yokohama. For Victoria the ship has 160 tons of freight and two Chinese passengers, and for Sound ports she has 3,310 tons of cargo, including 180 bales of silk, and 43 passengers.

Boats Leaving To-morrow

At noon to-morrow it is expected that the Blue Funnel liner Bellerophon, Capt. Bebb, will sail for the United Kingdom via the Orient. On the Bellerophon is the first large consignment of this year's red salmon, 45,000 cases having been loaded at Tacoma. She has taken an unusually large and heavy cargo of agricultural implements for Manila. The dimensions of the boxes can be imagined when they measure 1,450 cubic feet to the case. This is the first consignment of agricultural machinery for the Philippines and is being sent for the opening up of the islands for settlement by the United States government. Among other articles loaded at Tacoma are 400 tons of wood pulp, 500 tons of box shooks, 500 tons of hay, one carload of piano tuning boards, 1,000 barrels of whale oil and 1,000 cases of fresh Yakima apples for the Philippine Islands.

The new Canadian-Australian liner Niagara, Capt. Morrisby, will set away to-morrow evening for the Antipodes, carrying the largest list of passengers to leave here in many years. She is also taking out a large cargo.

RUPERT OUT; MAY IN.

Yesterday morning the G. T. P. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. Donald, left port for Prince Rupert and Stewart with a large list of passengers.

This morning the C. P. R. steamer Princess May, Capt. D. Robertson, arrived in port from Skagway and Prince Rupert. A number of passengers made the round trip.

MONTH'S CUSTOMS RETURNS

Customs returns for the port of Victoria kept up well during the month of August and compare well with those for the corresponding period of time in 1912. The duties amounted to $38,352.17, and the other revenues to $20,300, making a total of $58,652.17.

CELTICBURN OFF FOR GRAIN.

The British barque Celticburn, Capt. Demier, left Victoria on Sunday morning in tow of the tug Lorne for Tacoma, to load a cargo of grain for the United Kingdom.

LOCAL NEWS

Burials Are Few.—The healthy character of Victoria is shown in the fact that only 36 burials took place in August at Ross Bay cemetery.

Sanich Lighting.—At the meeting of the Sanich council, this evening it is probable the proposal to light the bulk of the municipality will be taken up, as an estimate of the cost was submitted by the British Columbia Electric Railway Company at the last meeting.

Reorganization of Departments.—With the retirement on Saturday of B. T. O'Grady, assistant engineer of surveys, the city engineering department will be reorganized, and two assistant engineers only employed, A. O'Meara on sewers, and C. Payne on construction.

Alleged Assault.—Albert Cresswell was charged this morning in police court with having assaulted a Chinese named Yung Sung yesterday. He pleaded not guilty and the case was adjourned until to-morrow to enable witnesses to be summoned.

Superintendent Resigns.—F. W. Knickerbocker, superintendent of the Victoria Lumber Company's camp at Cowichan Lake, has resigned his position owing to ill health and will leave shortly for hot springs in the state of Oregon. Mr. Knickerbocker has been connected with the Chemaluna Company for some time.

From Land of the Czar.—A Russian baroness, by name la Baronesse Schille of the town of Revel, in the czar's domains is one of the guests now at the Empress hotel. The baroness arrived here on the Empress of Asia and it is understood that her trip is a world culture one. She is staying for a day or two in this city.

Phenomenal Growth.—The wonderful popularity of Vancouver Island as a health resort is shown in the fact that the new Quilicum hotel at Quilicum beach was opened only Saturday, and already the architects, Spurgin & Williams, of this city, are preparing plans for additions to the premises, which

COWICHAN C. C. WON CHAMPIONSHIP; TRIUMPHED OVER OAK BAY YESTERDAY

Batting of Curgenvin, Bowling of Bagnall and Brilliant Fielding of Whole Team Won

"The best cricket final seen in years," was everybody's verdict as one of the largest crowds ever seen on that enclosure famous for many cricket finals, trooped out of Jubilee Hospital ground yesterday. The best team won. There was no doubt of that. But the winners put up an exceedingly plucky fight, and there was more than one spectator thought when four Cowichan wickets went down in the second innings that the local club was going to win through.

The revived public interest in the game which was evinced yesterday was no less a tribute to the increased hold which cricket is gaining among Victorians than to the fact that for the first time in many years teams outside Vancouver and Victoria were battling in the final. The contestants, in fact, were two young clubs who had each just attained their second birthday, and whose early promise gives ample forecasts of a brilliant future. It was good, clean cricket all the way through yesterday. Free and attractive batting, of the sort that appeals most to a crowd, excellent fielding, and good bowling all helped to make up as good an afternoon's sport as one could wish to see.

The Cowichan victory was a very popular one. The up-island team has been a bright star in the cricket firmament for two seasons now and its play has always been sportsmanlike and good to watch. A great ovation greeted Captain Hilton when Mrs. J. C. Barton, wife of the president of the Pacific Coast Cricket Association, handed him the cup which is emblematic of the Pacific Coast cricket championship.

Cowichan won on the first innings by 108 runs. Following on Oak Bay quickly knocked out 172 runs, and set off to attempt to get the Cowichan eleven out for 64. This was at 5.40 and as stumps were due to be drawn at 6.10, the task was one almost impossible to accomplish. However, the Oak Bay-ites made a plucky attempt and actually succeeded in getting out four of the Cowichan strongest batsmen for a grand total of 30 runs when the umpire pocketed the ball.

The day was ideal for cricket and the pitch in excellent condition. Captain Hilton won the toss and elected to bat first, sending in Curgenvin and Taylor to face the bowling of Hadley and Orr, the first named with his express and the latter with his slow ball. Hadley opened with a maiden to Curgenvin and for a time runs came slowly. Curgenvin was missed in the field when he was 3 and this mistake proved costly to Oak Bay, for the old Derbyshire county man knocked up well over fifty before the innings was finished. Both men began to open their shoulders after a while, and in Orr's third over Curgenvin got hold of a full pitch and lifted it out of the ground for six. Taylor had made fourteen when he got his leg palpably in front of a perfectly straight ball from Hadley and led to

WON BY COWICHAN

The cup, which is emblematic of the Pacific Coast cricket. This is the eighth occasion on which it has been won. Previously the trophy has gone five times to Victoria and two to Vancouver. Below is the list of title winners: 1913, Cowichan C. C. at Victoria; 1912-1911-1910, Victoria C. C. at Victoria; 1909, Vancouver C. C. at Vancouver; 1908, Victoria C. C. at Victoria; 1907, Vancouver C. C. at Vancouver; 1906, Victoria C. C. at Victoria.

wend his way to the pavilion. One for 20. Murphy joined Curgenvin, and the latter became more aggressive still. He scored three boundaries in a row, and appeared at this stage to have a complete mastery over the bowling. Murphy went at 74 after helping Curgenvin to add 46 to the score. He was caught by Captain Harker at point after contributing 13. 74 for 2. Brooke-Smith came in and signalled his appearance by a couple of pretty off drives each for a brace of runs. He lost Curgenvin shortly afterwards, out in trying to drive one of Grant's medium-paced deliveries. McAdam did not stay long, being bowled by the fifth ball of Hadley's fourth over before he had scored. However, Vaughan, Hills and Hayward all helped the score along considerably. The innings closed for 381 runs. Grant was the most successful bowler with five wickets for 76, while Captain Harker bowled very well in his brief half of the innings and had an average of four wickets for 57, a very creditable performance under the circumstances.

Oak Bay Innings. The wonderful fielding of the Cowichan team had perhaps more to do with the early dismissal of the Oak Bay players than any factor, though Bagnall's bowling was beyond reproach. On a wicket that materially aided the batsmen he came out with the following splendid figures:

Overa. Maidens. Runs. Wickets.

26.3 6 44 7

If this is not eloquent enough testimony of good bowling, then it would be hard to find better. Curgenvin was not in form with the ball. He bowled six overs for never a wicket, and his fast off breaks seemed to possess no terrors for the seafarers. Brooke-Smith went on late and had two wickets for twenty runs. Only the first four Oak Bay men made any sort of a stand against the good bowling of the up-islanders. Harker's 26 was the highest score, while Orr's was a very attractive innings. The Oak Bays found themselves 108 runs behind. They followed on.

In their second venture the local men were more successful. The innings was notable for a fine first wicket partnership between those two striking batsmen, Orr and Harker. While they were together over a hundred runs were knocked up, and this excellent start allowed Oak Bay to declare at 5.30 for 172 runs for four wickets. As has been described above, they gave the Cowichan team a fright by prompt dismissal of four men, but the match and the trophy went to the Cowichan eleven by virtue of a win in the first innings.

Cup Presented.

At the close of the match the cup was presented by Mrs. Barnacle. F. C. Barnacle, president of the association, made a short speech prior to the presentation in which he congratulated Cowichan in winning the trophy and the runners up on the exceedingly plucky fight they had shown. He remarked that the victory of an up-island team would do a great deal to encourage cricket in British Columbia. Usually the destination was either Vancouver or Victoria. He paid a tribute to the all-round excellence of the winners, and remarked that the final was one worthy of the best traditions of British Columbia cricket. Afterwards Mrs. Barnacle presented the cup and Captain Hilton gracefully acknowledged the trophy.

Umpire's Withdrawal.

Much surprise was occasioned in the final yesterday through the withdrawal of Umpire Paten from the game in Oak Bay second innings. Mr. Paten refused to continue to officiate. The following explanation of his withdrawal was received from Mr. Paten by the Times this morning:

Dear Sir,—As I have been asked by several of the public for my reason in withdrawing from my position as umpire during the second innings of the Oak Bay eleven after the game had been contested with the keenness and good sportsmanship we have been led to expect from both clubs, I beg to say that I took exception to the repeated criticisms of Mr. Yeoman, of the Oak Bay club, which originated in the remark that "the Oak Bay eleven was not going to receive any consideration from the umpires." I considered such a remark entirely uncalled for and one that reflects little credit upon the sportsmanship of the person making it, and I trust the cricketing public of Victoria will endorse the action which I took, which I consider was the only possible one under the circumstances.

Yours faithfully,

R. B. PATEN.

SWIMMERS HAVE NOT BEEN SUSPENDED

That the B. C. A. A. U. was a little precipitate in its action declaring the R. C. Branch of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association an outlaw organization and its members under suspension, following their appearance in the Carnival at Victoria and the Marathon race of a later date, is the conclusion arrived at in the report of H. E. Arnold, who was appointed a committee of one to go into every phase of the case. The following official statement has been issued by the amateur union:

"To correct an erroneous impression regarding the status of the swimmers who competed at the water carnival in Victoria on Monday, August 4, and at the marathon race in Victoria, on Saturday, August 16, the following announcement is made by H. P. Archibald, who was appointed as a committee of one to deal with the swimming situation at the last meeting of the provincial executive of the B. C. A. A. U.:

"The swimmers are not under suspension nor is the B. C. branch of the C. A. E. A. an outlaw organization, and the statements to that effect which have appeared in the press recently were made without a full understanding of the relations existing between the parent bodies of the respective organizations in the east."

FOOTBALL CLUBS GETTING READY

To-morrow evening the Welsh Rugby club will hold a smoking concert at the Victoria hotel at 7.30. The object is to have a social time amongst the members and to line them up to commence training for the coming season. There is every indication of a successful season for the Welsh club. All members and anyone desirous of connecting themselves with the club are cordially invited to attend their smoker.

A meeting of the Sons of England football committee will be held to-night at 8 o'clock in the Victoria bar-room.

TWO NEW STYLES In Men's Wear for Fall

Keep in touch with all the new ideas. Your dress has more effect upon others than you are aware of, and if you call upon a business acquaintance in a smart, up-to-date suit, you'll be more likely to gain your ends than if your dress were less stylish.

Norfolk Suits

Will be much worn this Fall, partly that they are a comfortable, easy-fitting style; but if you'll call at our store and try one on, you'll find them very smart appearing.

Dark brown tweed mixtures with just a hint of purple in the weave, priced at $25 and $30.

Double-Breasted Coats

Are quite new this season. We are showing a very smart model in three-button style, two to button, with soft rolled long lapel in a nice dark brown serge with a tint of red, priced at $30.

BEES ARE DOING BETTER ON ROAD

Team is Hitting Again and Won Two Out of Three at Spokane

Since hitting the road, Victoria's baseball hopes have shown form that has once more revived in the breasts of their fond admirers the hope that they will muster enough strength to grab that third position berth from the faltering Seattle club. On Sunday Swede Narveson showed one of his best games and beat Shuffling Phil Douglas in an eleven-inning encounter 5 to 1, while yesterday the Bees broke even in the Labor Day double bill. The scores were 4 to 2 in the morning, with Spokane in the lead, and 7 to 4 in the afternoon, Victoria taking this game. The Bees showed renewed "pep" in all their games and are playing gingerly ball on their final round of the circuit.

Hitting Once More

One of the brightest features of the start at Spokane has been the return to form of the much-vaunted wrecking crew, the Bees slugging all kinds of pitching since they hit the trail. The Indians were only able to score a single run off Narveson in Sunday's combat in eleven innings, while yesterday they could not do better than eight runs in two games, making nine in all since they reached home. Victoria, on the other hand, has tallied fourteen times, so that it can be seen that the locals are hammering the cork center when hits mean runs. Another pleasing feature was the superb twirling of Narveson on Sunday, the Swede being invincible in the pinches, while he breezed seven batters. Douglas fanned fifteen, getting Swain four times, but he could not stand the pace. Victoria crossed the plate four times in a row, in the eleventh.

Fitz Got His

Lynch and his Indians pounded Fitzgerald, freely in the morning fixture yesterday, getting ten hits for four runs, while the Bees could do little with Smith. The elongated Redskin held the Victoria sluggers to five scattered hits and two runs. In the afternoon Bagnall was hard for four runs, while to the third and Kanty went in the fifth. Victoria hammered Covaleski to the barn in the fourth, taking a lead, which the Flying Dutchman managed to hold up. Swain, Delmas and Lamb were the batting heroes of this affray.

BILLIARD MATCH BOOKED TO-NIGHT

E. W. Nicholson, secretary-manager of the Camslop club, who is looking after Melbourne Inman's interests in this city, announces the further engagement of the champion for an exhibition game at the Westholme Hotel billiard room, where he will probably play a match with his brother, who is a leading amateur of England, on Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. Inman, who arrived on Monday direct from England, is accompanied by Mrs. Inman, and will spend the week in this city.

Since Inman was in Victoria last year he has successfully defended his title of English champion, and has twice lowered his English record for breaks with ivory balls. In addition to retaining the championship in a match with Reece, in which he won with a 16,627, the champion also won the English Billiard Control Club championship tournament, losing only one game when he conceded 10,000 points start to Mr. Reece. In the season's play Inman won fourteen matches, scoring 256,693 out of a possible 266,000 points.

KING MAY ATTEND SOCCER FEATURE

It is possible that His Majesty the King will attend next season's cup final. Gilbert Kemp, Oldham athletic's centre forward, is one of the summer's bridegrooms.

Bolton Wanderers and Blackburn Rovers are not the only clubs who require a centre forward.

For the second year in succession Blackburn Rovers have almost given close-season catches a miss.

Manchester United have shown little haste in deciding upon this season's understudies to Beale.

Villa, Rovers, Bolton and Middlesbrough have all been content to resign last year's full backs en bloc.

Manchester City's shirts for next season will be of the sky-blue order.

Only four of Burnley's players have already sampled first division football, but this fact may only make the debutants all the keener to shine.

Blackburn, who has joined Middlesbrough from Aston Villa, is a native of Stornoway. He is a likely player, standing 5 feet 11 inches and weighing 12 stone.

Of the players who assisted, Aston Villa's League team last season all have been retained save Buckley and Hales. Ashcroft is Blackburn's one departure.

Chelsea have indulged in a big weeding-out process since last April. Two goal-keepers, six backs, five half-backs and a dozen forwards have had their names taken off the club's books.

Caldwell, Harrow and Downing are a trio of well-known half-backs who up to quite recently had not been re-engaged by Chelsea, whilst prominent "minus" forwards were Whittingham, Freeman, Douglas, Steer, Fairgray, Dodd and Read.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., Aug. 30.—Griffin, the California crack, defeated Baird, the Canadian champion, in the semi-finals of the men's singles of the international tennis tournament here. The score was 3-6, 3-4, 6-3.

In the same event, Whitney, New York, beat Johnston, California, 4-3, 4-3. In the mixed doubles Miss Best and Strachan, of Toronto, beat Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Thorp, of Cleveland, 6-1, 6-1.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

Vancouver Produces Boxing Phenomenon.

There is at least one Canadian who can hold his own with the best that the American promoters can produce, and in Frank Barrieau Vancouver has a youngster who will undoubtedly become one of the greatest pugilists of modern days within a few short years. Barrieau scales about 135, but it is said that he can make 135 in a pinch, and his recent wins show that he is possessed of more natural fighting ability than any Canadian in many moons. Barrieau has defeated a big list of so-called stars and has secured fair decisions with Philadelphia Jack O'Brien and Leach Cross. His fight yesterday against Leach Cross was a revelation to those who have followed his ring career and Barrieau right now looks fit to go against the best in the lightweight division or even tackle the most formidable welters.

Victoria's Representatives Playing Better Baseball.

Before Mike Lynch and his Indian tribe bumped into the Bees, they had a record of thirteen wins out of sixteen games in their last three series. That is stepping some in any league, and the dopests all over the circuit predicted an ignominious rout for the Bees. The latter, however, after tossing away a couple of easy wins and running into an unlooked-for batting slump, have taken up their cudgels in old time form against the Indians, and now look the aggressors, if anything. To date the teams are but one game apart in nine played. Spokane has won five, while the Bees have won four. Narveson, Kantelehner and Barham are the only local twirlers to do anything with the Spokane batters and even if Manager Delmas has to depend upon this trio, they should be able to take two or three games during the balance of the week. Victoria has a grand chance to step into third place and by their stand against the Indians the locals look the logical choice to succeed Seattle in the first division.

Signing Cadreau Gives Brown the Pennant.

Victoria should have had Chief Cadreau about a month ago, but some how the wires got crossed and the Redskin was sent to the Beavers. It was this move of Brown's, paying spot cash for the Spokane slab artist, that really gives him the strange hold which he now possesses upon the 1913 pennant of the Northwestern baseball league. Vancouver's slab array had broken under the strain of a long road trip and Brown was sorely in need of a twirler who could work three or four times a week helping out the other slab artists, and he picked up just the man that he needed in Cadreau. The latter has proved a veritable truck horse for the mainland squad and Brown can thank his tainly done me a lot of good. I first heard of it when I was a girl and I always said that if I ever had female trouble I would take it."

"I suffered from organic inflamma-

spells when I would be in such pain that I would tear my clothes. One day my husband got the neighbors in to see what the matter was but they could not help me. My first thought was for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I sent my husband out for it and took it until I was en-

FIRST THING

The first newspaper printed in Detroit was the Michigan Essay or In-partial Observer, which issued its initial number 104 years ago, 1809. The oldest of present-day Detroit papers is the Free Press, which was founded in 1821, and has been published continuously ever since. Western journalism began in 1787 with the publication of the Kentucky Gazette at Lexington, Ky. The first Ohio newspaper was commenced in Cincinnati in 1793. Indiana's first paper was founded at Vincennes in 1808, and the St. Louis Republic, Missouri's pioneer journal, was established in the same year. Illinois journalism began in 1814, when the Illinois Intelligencer was published at Kankakee. Wisconsin's first paper was started at Green Bay in 1833, and the same year marked the beginning of journalism in Kansas and Arkansas.

LETTER FROM LONDON

Pithy Comment on Passing Events in United Kingdom

By ARTHUR SCAPPE, J. P.

British Horsemanship at Olympia.

One of the main features at the international horse shows at Olympia during the last few years, and noticeably this season, has been the poor display made by British officers in comparison with foreign competitors. As a nation we are good horsemen, and across country after a pack in full cry can no doubt hold our own with anyone but when it comes to "show jumping" at an exhibition we are apparently quite content to take a back seat and see prize after prize and cup after cup go to the continent or over seas. The reason would appear to be simply that we don't take sufficient trouble. Show jumping, both for man and beast, comes under the heading of an exaggerated effort, and until we are prepared to make it the horse are likely to remain abroad. Lieut. Godfrey Brooke, of the 18th Lancers, has recently published a book on the subject of training young horses to jump, which is just what our officers have taken no pains to do. The author himself was one of the very few Britishers to gain distinction in the ring this year, and proved conclusively by the success he attained that the method he advocates are the right ones. An attitude of supercilious carelessness is not calculated to win either cups at Olympia or severer contests elsewhere, as we discovered to our cost in the Boer war. Time was when the Anglo-Saxon was pre-eminent in every kind of sport, but that day has passed. At the present moment it takes us all we know to keep our laurels when in competition with continental nations in every form of athletics with which we have been familiar for countless generations and they took up as it were yesterday. Truly "the old order changeth."

The Duke and the Judge.

"All London," by which I mean about one-quarter per cent. of its total population, has gone to Goodwood to see the King and incidentally the races, and I, even I alone am left to apprise you of the interesting fact. Goodwood is the most beautiful course in England, possibly in the universe, and the name recalls one of the most curious incidents in connection with that time-honored though recently somewhat besmirched institution, the British turf. True it happened many years ago but is none the less worthy of record. Two horses straining every nerve for the post, and running neck and neck with near the width of a horse-hair between them, so exclusively engaged the attention of the judge that he failed to notice a third competitor, Dandizette, belonging to the Duke of Richmond, which had already shot past the box, a winner by a good three lengths. The number of the second horse went up and Dandizette was unplaced. The Duke, however, possibly seeing the opportunity for an immortal bon mot, refused to enter any protest, and merely remarked to the mortified judge, "I have always heard that justice was blind. Now I know it."

Manage These Things Better in France.

The following decree has just been issued by the mayor of a small village in the south of France:

"Whereas the young people of our commune are accustomed to meet and dance every Sunday evening, and the noise they make frightens and disturbs the domestic fowl and other animals of the village, and whereas the result may be prejudicial to agriculture generally, we hereby prohibit dancing within the bounds of the commune during the hours in which the said fowls and animals are accustomed to repose."

Can consideration for other donkeys further go?

How London Cares for Its Sick.

I observed the other day, somewhat in haste, that we are a remarkable people, and I now venture to endorse this opinion entirely at my leisure. Nothing much more extraordinary than the methods adopted by London in the care of its countless numbers of sick is to be found in the annals of civilization from the year one downwards. The cost of their care and maintenance—a heavy item—instead of being a first charge upon the rates, as it is in transatlantic and other self-respecting communities, is left entirely to fortune in the shape of voluntary contributions. There is, of course, a reason for this, as there is for everything if you can only find it, although to the reflective mind it cannot be regarded as conclusive. Here it is: London hospitals always have been supported by voluntary contributions, and therefore—but those who are acquainted with the dogology can finish the syllogism for themselves. Far be it from me to state that the response which is daily made to the piteous appeals for help is not a generous one, but it is not enough. Despite the volume of begging letters, lithographed facsimiles of the handwriting of some bright particular and aristocratic star which esurber the breakfast table (for the typewriter has long ceased to touch the heart), notwithstanding the ominous rattle of money boxes at street corners and the dolorous tale that is told by hideous hoardings on the walls of the hospitals themselves, there is ever a deficit at the end of the year. Large sums are constantly being left by will, ingenuity excels itself in endeavor to invent new methods for collecting funds, and still the cry is for more. A neat apparatus in the form of a clock meets your eye at every underground railway station with the legend, "It costs a penny a second to run the London hospital." you drop a penny in the slot with the comforting conviction that you have personally maintained this admirable institution for the eight-sixth thousandth part of twenty-four hours. But your satisfaction cannot be said to be long-lived. Alexandria Day, an annual crusade instituted two years ago by the Queen Dowager, realized this year throughout the country some forty odd thousand pounds, but the expenses ate up probably half that amount. Lovely ladies, clad in white samite, mystic, wonderful, parade the streets and solicit every passer-by to purchase a calico rose (made by the blind, it is said, specially for the occasion). The lowest price is a penny, but you can pay as much more as you like, and many of the collectors if they are very beautiful, or what is more important, of specially high rank, are frequently paid in gold. You get no change from them. They tramp the town from dawn till dark regardless of the rain wrought by relentless rain to their diaphanous garb, snatching a hurried bite at a sandwich or nibble at a biscuit, and are quite happy when they (and the day) are done if their sales have exceeded those of a rival to the tune of a three-penny bit. Truly a maximum of effort with a minimum of result. And the remedy is so simple that it is obviously impossible of application. A half-penny on the rates—a Canadian's or a 10 per cent. tax on all amusements in a franchise, and the deed is done. But if you imagine that we shall adopt any such revolutionary reform under a couple of centuries you will overlook that element of conservatism which is as much a characteristic of London as it is of Pekin. And yet, now I come to think of it, China is a republic. Wonders will never cease!

The Strike on the Rand.

A book recently published, entitled "The Real South Africa," by Ambrose Pratt, describes in detail the conditions of labor in the mines on the Rand, and, as the French say, "gives one furiously to think." It certainly throws a lurid light on the gold mining industry and the conditions under which work is carried on. From 1906 to 1907 a greater number of rock drillers died of their occupation than British soldiers were killed in action during the Boer war. The death rate, generally speaking, amongst white miners is four times the normal mortality, and they only live on an average to the age of thirty-five. As regards the natives, the death rate ranges from 175 per thousand to 75, according to the latitude from which they hail. It appears when they are discharged from the mines that very few reach their kraals alive, if perchance they have a long distance to travel. They simply die by the way. The report of the commission appointed by Lord Selbourne during his term of office to enquire into the working of the mining regulations, says:

"There is no reason why underground work in whatever kind of mine should not be a perfectly healthy employment. The work itself is thoroughly wholesome, both to body and mind, and the special dangers, whether to life or limb, associated with different kinds of mining, are such as, if recognized and faced, can be avoided, provided that both employers and employed will co-operate in bringing this end about."

The proviso, "If recognized and faced," is an important one, and the strike affords abundant evidence that neither one course, nor the other, has been adopted. Like the Jamieson Raid of historic memory, the present trouble represents an accumulation of grievances too heavy to be borne. "The criminality of South Africa," says Mr. Pratt, is unparalleled in the civilized world. Auri sacra fames has much to answer for.

A Naval Grievance.

When Canada has a navy of its own—and that time probably is within measurable distance—let us hope that it will not tolerate the anomaly which represents a time-honored grievance in the senior service. It may just as well start by painting its own ships. Truth be told, thirty years out of number for the last thirty years, to the hardship caused by naval officers having to spend their own money upon paint and polish. It is inconceivable, but it is none the less a fact, that a young lieutenant appointed to the command of a torpedo destroyer has to apply a considerable portion of a barely living wage upon beautifying the craft which he is privileged to command. Many and manifold have been the changes and reforms in the navy of late years, but this particular abuse, for it is nothing else, is suffered to continue. You will probably ask why, and echo will continue to repeat your enquiry. It is probably one of the few things the present first lord of the Admiralty does not know.

Best-Hated Man in the U. K.

Lloyd George can certainly lay claim to the distinction of being the best-hated man in the United Kingdom. On the other hand, he is probably the best loved. All depends upon the political point of view. He is unquestionably endowed with a most charming personality, and the fascination he exercises is extraordinary. It would be hard to name a living speaker, save perhaps your own Sir Wilfrid at his best, who can stir and sway an audience as he can. From first to last he weaves a spell around them, holds them in the hollow of his hand and plays upon their emotions precisely as he chooses. It is a great gift. I remember once at some big insurance meeting at which he spoke making some remark to this effect to my next door neighbor, who hailed from Cardiff: "AY, man," he said, "but you should hear him in Welsh. How can ye expect anyone to do himself justice in a foreign tongue?" To hear the chancellor speak in English it is hard to believe that he is not talking in his own language, for he is certainly never at a loss for a word. At Carnarvon this week he seems to have excelled himself, and the blows he dealt and the thrusts he gave the Tories in general and the House of Lords in particular certainly will not enhance the affection with which they regard him. The audience numbered well over 10,000 people, and the numbers have been put as high as 12,000. A friend of mine who was present tells me the enthusiasm was something marvellous. He spoke now in Welsh, now in English. At one moment he had his hearers yelling themselves hoarse with cheers, at another screaming with laughter, and then on the verge of tears. Yet I should not call him a great orator. His written speeches, for instance, cannot compare with those of John Bright, but he never talks over the heads of his audience, and his meaning is always perfectly clear. A warm-hearted, impulsive man, often mistaken it may be as to method never as to principle, emphatically on the right side of things and imbued with an honest desire to leave the world better than he found it. The concluding paragraph of his great speech at Carnarvon is worthy perusal, for it shows the man: "You know the work I have set myself to accomplish. I was chaffed to-day by an old friend, who recalled the fact of my appearing at an important election meeting at Carnarvon twenty years ago in an old and much-worn suit of homespun; but you know that those things which I then preached in simple homespun I am now endeavoring to put into practice when I am wearing the ornate robes of a chancellor of the exchequer. I want to clear the way of the monopolies and privileges which beset and block it, so that Providence shall have a free road to carry its treasures of light, air, sustenance and hope to the door of every cottage in the land." Will any dare aver that that is an ignoble aspiration?

Rauch & Lang
Announces

The Worm Drive

The World's Finest and Latest Electric

You who miss a Worm Drive demonstration are missing the latest and greatest of all improvements in electrics. You can get it in only one car today—the newest Rauch & Lang. Worm Drive means a straight pull on the rear axle. It means more power, silence, and wonderfully increased durability. It permits better rear spring action. No other car rides so comfortably as the Rauch & Lang Worm Drive car. No other drive needs so little attention. Thousands of American cars will come to this method of propulsion. You can have it now in the new Rauch & Lang.

A Proven Advancement

The engineers of the Rauch & Lang Company have been experimenting for years with worm drives of different kinds. Their task was comparatively easy, as they had already mastered the motor problem and needed only an efficient and properly built worm to complete an arrangement that would prove scientifically correct. That has been done in the new Rauch & Lang.

The type of light weight, high-speed motor which has been in use by the Rauch & Lang Company ever since it began building electrics did not have to be redesigned, because it possessed all of the elements sought in a motor for such a vehicle. The engineers have produced in the Rauch & Lang the perfect combination. The man well informed in mechanics will become enthusiastic at sight of it. This drive is a work of art in mechanics—both as to design and manufacture. Nothing finer has ever been offered the public, and this is saying much when the perfection of the Rauch & Lang bevel gear is taken into consideration.

Always a Fully Developed Car

No better chain-driven cars were manufactured than the chain-driven Rauch & Lang. No better bevel gears—even gear manufacturers emphasize this—have been built than are offered in Rauch & Lang Cars. And now no better worm-driven mechanism can be offered than is present in the Rauch & Lang Worm Drive. It is efficient and powerful. It is such a great step in the improvement of propulsion that it merits the consideration of everyone in the market for a car. Its pulling power is tremendous and, with the motor, will stand a three hundred and fifty per cent overload strain. The combination of the Rauch & Lang Motor and the worm drive is silent—needs no adjusting and practically no attention.

The Utmost in Comfort and Flexibility

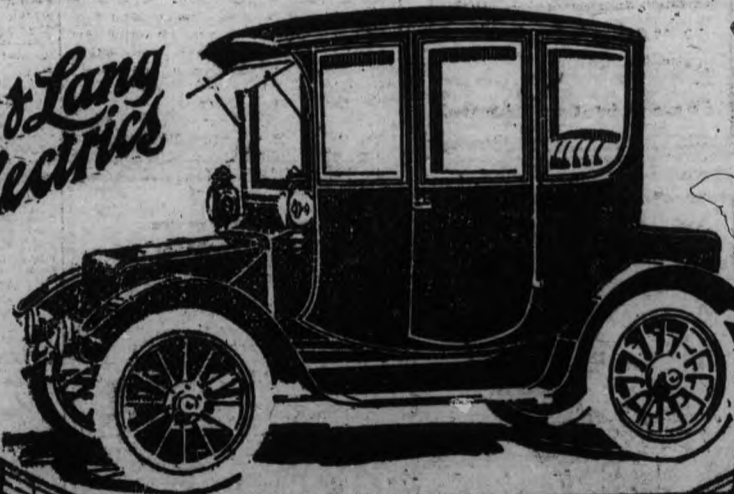

Rauch & Lang Cars have always been known for their luxurious riding qualities, but the new worm drive construction has permitted the use of springs of even greater flexibility, amply powerful to care for every riding shock or jar. With one passenger or five, the riding qualities are the same—soft and flexible. You must ride in this car to appreciate it. It is the most resilient, best-designed spring suspension ever invented. Investigate the new Rauch & Lang Worm Drive Car if you want to ride in the most perfect electric ever manufactured. It will give you a new idea regarding the electric car—a new angle which previously has not been presented to you. A high-speed motor with just one reduction—two universal joints and a clever device to care for twists and strains between motor and rear axle system makes the Rauch & Lang Electric the most wonderfully flexible car ever built.

Passengers Face Forward

Three Types of Control: (1) Driven from Front Seat. (2) Driven from Rear Seat. (3) Combination, Driven from Front or Rear Seat.

In addition to the improved propelling mechanism, a car allowing all passengers to face forward is offered, which is perfection itself. It can be driven from either the front or the rear seat, with the same ease. With one or two passengers, the elegance and dignity of the electric car is preserved by allowing it to be driven from the rear seat. In carrying four or five passengers, the car can be driven from the forward seat. These drives have been very skillfully and ingeniously interlocked so that when driving from either position the other controlling and braking mechanism is thrown out of action. The forward driver's seat revolves, but it is impossible to operate the car from it unless it be locked forward in proper position for driving. This arrangement is the neatest, cleverest and newest in the Electric field. Protection is afforded from every angle. You cannot make other than the proper movements to drive the car. In this arrangement the point of safety alone is worth the difference in price you would be asked to pay between a Rauch & Lang and any other make of car. Each feature and point is covered by patents. The new Rauch & Lang Worm Drive car with double controlled driving mechanism is the last word in Electrics. It is so far in advance of other makes that comparison is out of the question. Arrange by letter, or telephone, for a demonstration.

ALDERMAN DILWORTH IS THROWN FROM CAR

Automobile Struck by Street Car; Occupants Have Close Escape

Alderman John Dilworth and members of his family are nursing bruises and cuts to-day as a result of an accident which happened about 2:30 yesterday afternoon at Skinner street, Victoria. The alderman and relatives were out in a five-passenger car motoring in the direction of the Gorge, when in turning from the left side of Skinner street to enter Craigflower road he had to swerve across the tracks to avoid a motor-cyclist and passenger. In escaping the collision they failed to notice the rapid descent of a street car out-bound for the Gorge, running down the steep bank. It caught the automobile, throwing the party out, most of them falling at different points in the roadway and being cut and bruised in the impact with the paving. The alderman and his head cut, while his son, who was holding a child, was pitched from the back seat. The child had a miraculous escape. The car was badly damaged, and the party had to return by street car a little better to-day, but expresses the opinion that the family had a remarkable escape from what might have been a fatal accident.

ALD. DILWORTH

NEW SCHOOLS OPEN

Burnside and Oakland Buildings Will Have Formal Ceremonies Soon.

Although the returns of attendance in the public schools of Victoria have not yet been made up, it is estimated that the average daily attendance is some 4,600 in the public schools, and some 1,000 in the private schools of the city.

The Burnside and Oakland schools, although they open to-day, will not be formally dedicated to the cause of education for a few days.

Although work was only recently commenced on the extensions to Lamson street school, the four available rooms were re-opened to-day, a temporary wall having taken the place of the west wall, which was pulled down. Stronger foundations have been put in than was the case with the old school, and the planned extensions include a number of rooms, a domestic science department and an assembly hall.

"MAN FROM SWEDEN"

Williams Company Appear in a Comedy Drama Which is Well Received.

At the Princess this week is being presented "The Man From Sweden," a comedy drama, which has been put on with all the care which marks the productions of the Williams company, and is being played by the several members of the cast with their customary ability. At the two performances yesterday the audiences were large and showed their appreciation by frequent recalls. It will continue all week. The story is of a Swede who is rescued by a boy, around whom the play centres in that he is the object of a reward which others seek to obtain to the loss of the real rescuer.

Mr. Williams was seen as Carl Anderson, the Swede, and gave a most realistic impersonation. It was not so much the manner in which the dialogue was written as the slow, quiet delivery that caused almost every speech to be greeted with a burst of laughter. Mr. Mitchell did well in the juvenile role. Miss Page had a light comedy part which was a change from several weeks of heavy work. Mr. Sullivan made a polished villain, and little Jim scored in the boy.

Miss Jeannette Andrews, an operatic singer of talent, was an added attraction. Her songs were favorably received.

Bank Clearings—The bank clearings for the month of August were $14,132,820, as against $16,254,584 in the corresponding month of 1912. However, the total for the eight months of 1913, $121,864,231, exceeds by six millions the total for the first eight months of 1912.

Mrs. H. J. Martin left on the Sunday morning steamer Iroquois, with her sister, Mrs. K. J. Middleton, on a short visit to Tacoma.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cherry and daughter Lorraine returned home yesterday after a three months' tour of Canada and the United States.

WILL BE NO STRIKE

Consider Award of Arbitrator; No Difference of Opinion Expected.

Considerable satisfaction will be felt that no fear of a street car strike need be entertained for at least another two years. The local officials of the street railwaymen's union have been notified that the ballot of the various members in Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster and other centres has decided by a substantial majority in favor of the acceptance of the arbitration award of the wages board, as modified by the concessions offered by the company on working conditions.

The Victoria members are looking for the return to-day of their delegates from the mainland, when the full details will be known. An agreement will now be signed by the men for two years to expire co-incidentally with the light and power arrangement. No figures are available as to the actual vote, which will probably never be made public.

There are about 225 men, motormen and conductors, affected by the award in Victoria. They recognize that they have not got all they asked, but they feel that substantial improvement in working conditions has been secured by the appeal to the arbitration board. A meeting of the street railwaymen's union here was called for this afternoon to consider further the award of the arbitrators, and to receive the report of the delegates to the sessions in Vancouver. It was not expected that there would be any difference of opinion on the material points of the agreement, which have been announced in Vancouver as generally acceptable to the men.

HELD WITHOUT CHARGE

Thomas Matthews Spends Night in Police Cells With No Information Laid.

When the train came in from Nanaimo last evening a man named Thomas Matthews was placed under arrest and spent the night in the city jail.

He was released from that place this morning without any information being laid, and appeared to be very wrathful at his incarceration, although he acquiesced the police authorities of any blame for his night in what is an unpleasant sleeping-place at best.

Matthews was arrested and held at the request of Captain Godson-Godson and Gunnars, Rivers and Sanders of the Fifth regiment, and the allegation made against him was that he had used obscene and abusive language in regard to the militia at Ladang.

W. H. Langley and Lieut.-Col. Currie appeared in the police court at the conclusion of this morning's sitting and the former acquainted Magistrate Jay with the fact that Matthews was held in the police station without any information of this part of the program being released.

Magistrate Jay replied that the man was not before him in any way, and the place where the alleged offence took place was outside his jurisdiction, but suggested that if an application was made to the jailer the man would be released.

About noon Matthews was released on the order of City Prosecutor Harrison after investigation of the matter.

BODY UNIDENTIFIED

Drowned Man Found in Esquimault Harbor Last Evening—May Have Worked in Quarry.

Last evening the body of a man was found floating in the harbor at Esquimault, but although every effort was made at resuscitation it was in vain that the physician, Dr. Higgar, who was called to attend him, took every means to restore the man. Apparently the deceased had been in the water for only a short time and could not have expired more than fifteen minutes before the doctor's arrival. For nearly an hour the usual resuscitation methods were used, but at no time was there any evidence of breathing. It is supposed that the man worked at the Albert Head quarry, but nothing definite had been ascertained as to his name or occupation. He was about 40 years of age, 5 ft. 9 in. in height, weighed 165 lbs., smooth shaven, dark haired, and when found had on a dark suit with light blue shirt and green tie. The remains are at the Victoria Undertaking parlors, 224 Johnson street, awaiting identification.

LABOR SERMONS PREACHED.

On Sunday Rev. J. B. Warnicker, M. Green and Wm. Stevenson preached labor Sunday sermons. Mr. Stevenson pointed out that the labor question belonged to the future, and that the history of the religion of the Old Testament, the political, labor movements in history, the bondage of the Israelite in Egypt, and the lessons learned by the Israelite from that bondage, freedom, justice, and brotherhood. It was the mission of the church of to-day to endeavor to Christianize the business and industrial life of the community, and to apply the same three principles in the solution of the labor problems of the time. Mr. Warnicker preached to a large congregation in the morning, and pointed out that the solution for the three great problems of the day—race, war, and poverty—was to be found in the spirit of service and sacrifice toward one's fellowmen.

LANDS FOR INDUSTRIAL PURPOSES.

Offers will be received at the office of the undersigned until Monday, the 15th of September, by owners of land in the City, or to the immediate vicinity thereof, to lease to the Corporation of Victoria, for a term of years (not less than 25) for the purpose of re-lease by the City to persons who will establish industries thereon.

WELLINGTON J. DOWLER, City Clerk's Office, Victoria, B. C., September 2, 1913.

SCOTSMEN CELEBRATE IN CALEDONIAN STYLE

Big Crowd of Scotia's Sons and Daughters Attend Games at Willows

An unusually large crowd of Scotsmen and women turned out to the annual Caledonian games yesterday at the Willows track under the auspices of the Caledonian Club, the Victoria Pipe band, the Daughters of Scotland and the Gaelic Society.

Fair weather, an interesting programme and a big crowd, combined to make the proceedings entertaining from first to last, the skirl of pipes announcing the coming of the Gordon Highlanders' Pipe band shortly before 2 o'clock.

The piping and dancing competitions, for which the competitors took a position in a conspicuous place on a raised platform in front of the grandstand, occupied the greater part of the afternoon, the field events taking place at the time in other parts of the grounds, and constituting at times a triple programme. Great interest centred in the characteristically Scotch game of caber tossing, for which, however, there were few competitors. The pole vaulting also attracted considerable attention, the winner, McBride, making the cleanest as well as the highest vault in the competition, with Baxter a close second. Throwing the hammer and putting the shot followed adherents.

The wrestling was one of the most exciting of the field events, and upon the contest between the big J. B. A. man and the two smaller, if not less lithe, contestants, whom he finally placed on the mat after a prolonged struggle.

Track events were not keenly competed for in point of numbers. The three runners, Beasley, Carroll and Dickson, being the only entrants in the mile, half-mile, 440 yards, and 100 yards dash. Beasley made the mile in six minutes, also winning, with Carroll second in both instances, the 440 yards and 100 yards.

Most successful of the musicians was Piper Park, who carried off the majority of the prizes, presenting a very smart appearance also in the first event in the piping contest, where he marched round the stage.

The entries for the dancing were numerous, and the youngsters all acquitted themselves brilliantly, four competitors from Vancouver adding interest to the open competition, while the appearance of R. McKay, who gave a brilliant exhibition of the sean treubhalls and the Salior's Romp, added considerably to the enjoyment of this part of the programme. The Misses Mary Shearer and Hastings, both local dancers, won well-merited applause and took several of the prizes.

During the afternoon delicious refreshments were served in the upstairs room of the women's building, this department being in the capable care of Mrs. D. A. Murray. A dance followed in the evening.

The entire proceedings were excellently organized, barring, perhaps, the tug-of-war, and to the following committees of the day's doing: P. J. Riddell, president of the Caledonian Club; Donald Cameron, president of the Pipe band; Mrs. Pottinger, president of the Daughters of Scotland; N. P. McDonald, Chap. Chambers, A. G. Smith, Thos. Muirhead and David Lumsden.

OBITUARY RECORD

News has been received by relatives of the deceased in the city of the death last Friday at Esquimault, B.C., of Mrs. J. N. Woodgate, sister of Mrs. George Jay and Mrs. M. B. Smith, of this city. Mrs. Woodgate, prior to her marriage Miss Georgina Bowden, was born in Victoria, and left for England with her husband about seven years ago to make her home at Twickenham, where she was visited last year by Mr. and Mrs. George Jay at the time of their sojourn in the Old Country. The deceased lady leaves a wide circle of friends in this city, by whom her demise will be sincerely mourned.

The death occurred last evening at St. Joseph's hospital of Mrs. Ballantine Dunstone. The deceased lady, who lived at 740 Hillside avenue, was 22 years of age. The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at 2:30 from the late residence of the remains meantime resting at the Victoria Undertaking parlors, 224 Johnson street.

The death occurred on Sunday at the Jubilee hospital of Harry Le Roy, a waiter by occupation, and for the past two years engaged at the Empress hotel. The deceased was 35 years of age, and was a native of Quebec, where, it is believed, his mother lives at present. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from the B. C. Funeral chapel.

Oak Bay Returns—The building returns for the municipality of Oak Bay during the month of August this year amounted to $50,300 according to the official statement issued to-day. This total compares very favorably with other monthly returns of this present year.

INMAN PLEASES A LARGE CROWD

Melbourne Inman, the English billiard marvel, delighted a large gathering at the Camosun club last evening. Inman is the holder of the world's championship in English billiards, having defeated Rees in a championship game on April 1 in London, England, and retaining the coveted title. Last night Inman played 1000 points to H. L. Asworth's 400. Inman had little trouble in making the 1000 points while Asworth could make but 249 against the English cue expert.

Inman's play at all times was careful and precise. Each shot was played with the same ease and style. Among his best breaks were 119, 101, 88, 78, 62 and several nice scores over the half century mark. Asworth, who is undoubtedly one of the best exponents of the game on the Island, although outclassed compiled 42 for his best break of the evening.

This evening at the Westholme billiard parlors, Melbourne Inman will play F. E. McPye. Mr. McPye is well-known in the city as a billiard player of repute and should give a good account of himself against his more finished and experienced opponent.

This will probably be the last appearance of the champion in this city for some time, as he is returning to England at once for the big tournament which commences in London on November 10.

TO STOP PICKETING

Authorities in Nanaimo Are Preparing to Prevent Any Attempts at This.

Nanaimo, Sept. 2.—The authorities are preparing to enforce the law as to picketing here, following the latest decision of the judicial committee of the privy council.

The decision is in the case of Otter v. Osmer, a Manitoba case, and the court of last resort held in that that peaceful picketing is not lawful under the criminal code of Canada.

The miners say they will observe the law, whatever it is, but they will not believe that peaceful picketing, which has been declared by the privy council to be quite lawful in the United Kingdom, is unlawful in this country until they have consulted a lawyer and are assured by him that it is so.

The section of the criminal code which deals with this is 501, which covers intimidation of various sorts, and by that section it is declared to be an offence "to beset or watch the house or other place where any person resides or works, or carries on business or happens to be."

Besetting or watching under this section has been held by Canadian judges to cover all acts of picketing. There is no similar provision under the law in the United Kingdom, where it has been held that peaceful picketing is lawful, even to the extent of endeavoring to dissuade a man from working so long as it is done without threats or violence.

Oak Bay Returns—The building returns for the municipality of Oak Bay during the month of August this year amounted to $50,300 according to the official statement issued to-day. This total compares very favorably with other monthly returns of this present year.

STRONG NERVES

The Secret of Good Health

More ailments are due to weak nerves than to any other cause. You know the nerves are little wires that lead from the spinal cord to all parts of the body, intended by nature to convey the power which runs the human machine. Every artery, every vein, no matter how insignificant it may appear to be—every gland and tissue of the human body are least supplied with a delicate network of nerve wires which give them power to act. This power we sometimes call nerve force is nothing but electricity.

To prove that the nerves convey the motive power of the body, just sever a nerve of the stomach and that organ will become paralyzed.

The reason any part of your body becomes weak or debilitated is because it does not get enough electricity. When one part fails to do its work properly, other complications arise, causing sickness and disease.

Help nature cure by restoring nerve force, electric energy. The man with strong nerves is always a healthy man, for he has plenty of nerve force which keeps the body healthy. If your nerves are weak and you are sick or ailing in any way, you should restore to your body the electricity it lacks.

Electro-Vigor does this while you sleep. It fills the nerves with new life—new vim, and out crops the new energy which makes health.

Electro-Vigor is not an electric belt. It is a dry-cell battery and makes its own power continuously. There is no charging to do—just put it on and let it do the current.

Sentiment Over Holiday Favorable With Improved European Money Situation

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)
New York, Sept. 2.—Sentiment over the holiday developed favorably and lent its influence to a further upturn in prices. Advances from Europe during the past week has shown that the monetary system is improving. The encouraging reports as to the probable outcome of the U. F. syndicate and the vague but somewhat more assuring advices as to the status of affairs in Mexico have contributed to the improved sentiment.

The domestic money outlook has been favored by the action of the government in depositing in southern banks in order to aid the crop movement which it is anticipated will relieve the strain on central reserve banks and in a measure alleviate the stringency which invariably attends the marketing of crops.

Despite tariff revision and other legislative activities, the tone of general trade has been very good, and advances from steel and iron circles have been very encouraging, even though the corn and cotton belts advances have not been entirely flattering.

BULLISH TURN IN CORN INFLUENTIAL

Chicago, Sept. 2.—The bullish situation of wheat was emphasized to-day when following a two days' recession closing prices were just at Saturday's level with fluctuations confined within an extremely narrow range. The bullish turn in corn exerted its influence in the wheat trade, but apart from that influences were construed as weakening in effect. Corn and oats closed very firm and well near top prices.

SHARP EXCHANGES OVER WATER ISSUE

Mayor Tells Alderman Cuthbert That His Intervention is Unnecessary

Accompanying are copies of the correspondence which has passed between the mayor and Alderman Cuthbert with regard to the water question, following the alderman's letter to his worship:

Mayor's Office, Aug. 28, 1913.

Ald. Herbert Cuthbert, 635 Fort Street, Victoria, B. C.:

Dear Sir,—Referring to your lengthy communication on the "Water Question," of August 27, and dealing with it from an absolutely impersonal standpoint, my opinion is that, from first to last, both as to the position you have assumed in your arguments to the council, and now in this communication, you are in no wise assisting to a better or more rapid solution of the water question, but, on the other hand, are seriously and unnecessarily complicating all the questions and matters incidental thereto, more particularly as concerns the city's position with the Westholme Company. I must ask you to bear in mind that these matters are already vested in our executive officials who are dealing with them, and, any interference on your or the council's behalf, of the manner you suggest, is not going to assist them or assist the city.

I am not going into the details of your propositions, although I could do so and severely criticize many of them, but let me request you, as the executive head of the city, to use the best kind of discretion by allowing those who have had these matters throughout in their charge, with every detail at their finger ends, to look after the city's interests.

If these matters were in a position such as your suggestions lead one to suppose they might be, our duty would be to instantly dismiss every executive officer in the city's employ, including the mayor.

You must bear in mind, further, that the citizens have already, and, I think, intelligently so, dealt with the water question, and I insist that there is no matter, such as these questions that you are raising, that has, or should be, allowed to have any bearing upon the situation to-day.

As to approaching the Westholme Company for a speedy settlement, that is the very last thing that the city should consider, and, I may say in this connection, that the city authorities and the Westholme, through their legal advisers, are in constant touch, and that there has always existed an opening for a proposal for a speedy settlement in the only way in which it can be brought about in the interests of the city.

I rest absolutely upon Mr. Meredith's advice on all points of the question, except the diameter of the flow-line.

So that in closing I may say I am of the opinion that your praiseworthy energy, expended in the interests of the city, instead of being of any value at this stage of the proceedings, will continue to have a detrimental effect upon the whole situation.

I agree absolutely with the attitude of the Colonist yesterday morning, except as to the need of "further expert advice," viz.: "That the city must go through with the Sooke lake water supply," and that the whole matter rests absolutely with experts, and is not a matter for laymen or lengthy discussion.

Yours truly,

A. J. MORLEY, Mayor.

635 Fort street Victoria, Aug. 30, 1913.

To His Worship the Mayor, Victoria, B. C.:

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of yours of the 28th inst., and in reply beg to say that I do not intend to enter into a discussion with you on the lines indicated in your letter. We have had discussions enough. What is wanted now is action.

The method of dealing with the water question as outlined in my letter is the result of a great deal of thought and study, and I think that it will ultimately be found to be the proper solution.

I also pass over all your personal references to myself and your opinion of the course I have pursued in the council as being beside the question.

Anyone who is at all familiar with the subject knows that your letter is simply a travesty and an evasion and as erroneous as the figures you published in yesterday morning's Colonist.

The truth is that no matter how much it is in the general interest of the citizens to settle this vital matter on the lines I have laid down, you would never help to do so if you could avoid it because you did not suggest it yourself.

You say you could severely criticize my proposals, but you are careful not to do so—your criticism would serve that falsely. To retaliate would serve no good purpose.

I must take issue with the idea suggested in your letter that I and the rest of the aldermen have practically nothing to do with this question as the whole matter should be left in the hands of the executive officers to deal with, as being contrary to the system of municipal government under which the business of the city is transacted. To even suggest that the largest question ever before the Victoria city council, in all its present ramifications, should be left to be dealt with by the mayor and officials is an absurdity. The council is the final authority of what shall be submitted to the will of the people, and as a member of that body, I have stated my position—I think clearly—and put myself on record as being extremely desirous that the whole water question should be settled now and for all time.

Yours faithfully,

HERBERT CUTHBERT, Alderman.

DISCUSSES FUTURE OF SOUTH AFRICA

General Botha Still Strong Says Major H. A. Oliver, Member for Kimberley

MEMBER OF UNIONIST PARTY VISITS HERE

More Enrollments for Military Service Than Can Be Trained as Yet

That General Botha will retain his position in South Africa till the period when the first union Parliament of South Africa terminates by expiration, is the opinion of Major Henry A. Oliver, member of the House of Assembly for Kimberley.

The visitor arrived on Sunday on the Empress of Asia with his two daughters, and last yesterday for Vancouver en route east. The major had a stirring time leaving Johannesburg for Durban in order to join the new steamer at the Natal port. His arrival at the great mining city in the first week of July coincided with the rioting, and after the event he witnessed had no alternative but to fire on the mob. Mounted police had been used first, showing the utmost patience with the crowds, and then the troops, on being called out, fired first with blank cartridge, next at the ground in front of the mob, and it was only on the third refusal that ball cartridge was used. The railway station where he had deposited his light baggage was wrecked by the mob, and only the cloak room where the articles were escaped. Then Mr. Oliver says he could not leave the city by train, as the rails had been torn up, and the engineers and firemen taken from their cabs. He was told by the general manager that a train might be run to Natal from Germiston, some 20 miles out, but on arrival there with his daughters he found the station was in the hands of the mob. The northbound Durban express was halted on a siding near the depot, it being impossible to take it farther, and by a ruse the switches were set for the express, which suddenly started out and got away amid the imprecations of the mob.

Political Outlook.

Reverting to political matters Major Oliver said that the insurgent movement started some months ago by General Hertzog seemed to threaten the downfall of the Botha ministry, but he thinks the premier has recovered his ground and will weather the storm. The moderate men are with him, he said, the South African party now being backed by a large number of influential capitalists with great weight in the mining industry, and the policy of the party seems to be to stand strong for the British connection.

"I believe that the next election," he said, "will show a considerable increase in the Labor representation, which at the present time is six, but the automatic redistribution which is provided for in the constitution will provide several more seats in the urban constituencies. In consequence of this the Labor party will increase its lead, and will probably have some 16 to 18 seats in the next parliament, probably ultimately obtaining the balance of power. However the present ministry may have a majority over all the other parties combined, unless Gen. Hertzog's anti-British policy should receive further encouragement in the Transvaal and Cape Colony. His strength is now largely the Orange River colony.

"The Unionist party to which I belong is not a capitalist party, it is generally represented. In fact we have only two prominent capitalists among our membership, and we have moulded recent legislation in many ways with a friendly respect to labor, although there is not I think much prospect of our party coming into cooperation with them.

South Africa's Place.

"To the outside world our attitude on South Africa's place in the Empire and in defence must naturally occupy a foremost place. We have in the first place to remember that we are a white population of one million and a quarter among five millions of natives, and of that number of whites two-thirds are not of the British race.

"A great many of the educated Dutch have been across the border into the German possessions, and they see that the rule of the British, however much they may dislike it, is preferable, under the freest constitution in the whole Empire, and that a South African state standing alone would be within two months, for it would be impossible to hold the ports.

"Our military defence has been directed by the central idea that the future may have to see us face a native rising. When a form of semi-compulsory military service came into operation in January, we had more enrollments than the assembly could find money to train, so that the response from British and Dutch were alike as much as we could possibly expect. As the men are naturally good horsemen and shots, it is an easy matter to bring them into an effective state for the day when it will be possible to withdraw Imperial troops from South Africa. Enrollment at 21 is compulsory under the law, but the four-year service term may be taken from 17 to 21, the youth being then free for his profession, passing at that date into the first reserve. Judging from the response it is easy to see that in a few years we will have an army of from 150,000 to 160,000 men ready for service.

Naval Defence.

"It is, however, a different matter with regard to naval defence. We do
